

GUTTERGUARD FACTSHEET

Reasons to install Gutterguard:

Clogged gutters can not only cause water ingress in the roof, but the debris build up can damage the gutters. The weight of the debris, along with trapped water, can place enough weight on the gutters that they begin to pull away from the house. As water collects in the clogged gutters the metal gutters start to rust over time. Allowing clogs to remain for long periods can cause enough damage that the gutters must be replaced. Installing gutterguard is a prevention measure.

Our gutterguard solutions fit practically any type of roof and gutter system.

Prevents your gutters and downpipes becoming clogged with leaf matter and other debris. Overflowing gutters is one of the common reasons for water entering homes during storms and high rainfall events.

Over-the-gutter protection like Blue Mountain Mesh or All Flow ensures year round low-maintenance protection that keeps gutters from getting blocked

Aluminium so it won't rust or corrode and has 'O' flammability index rating.

Unobtrusive. Gutterguard comes in a range of colours to blend in with your roof and gutters.

Gutterguard requires only minor maintenance. Cleaning off of any leaf debris that are not blown away naturally. The amount of maintenance required depends on the surrounding environment and weather conditions

Ember attack protection - installing 2mm mesh acts as a gutter guard as well as an ember guard ensuring gutters are kept free of leaves and debris whilst protecting your home from ember attack.

Product warranty of up to 15 years.
